

Library Book – Documentation

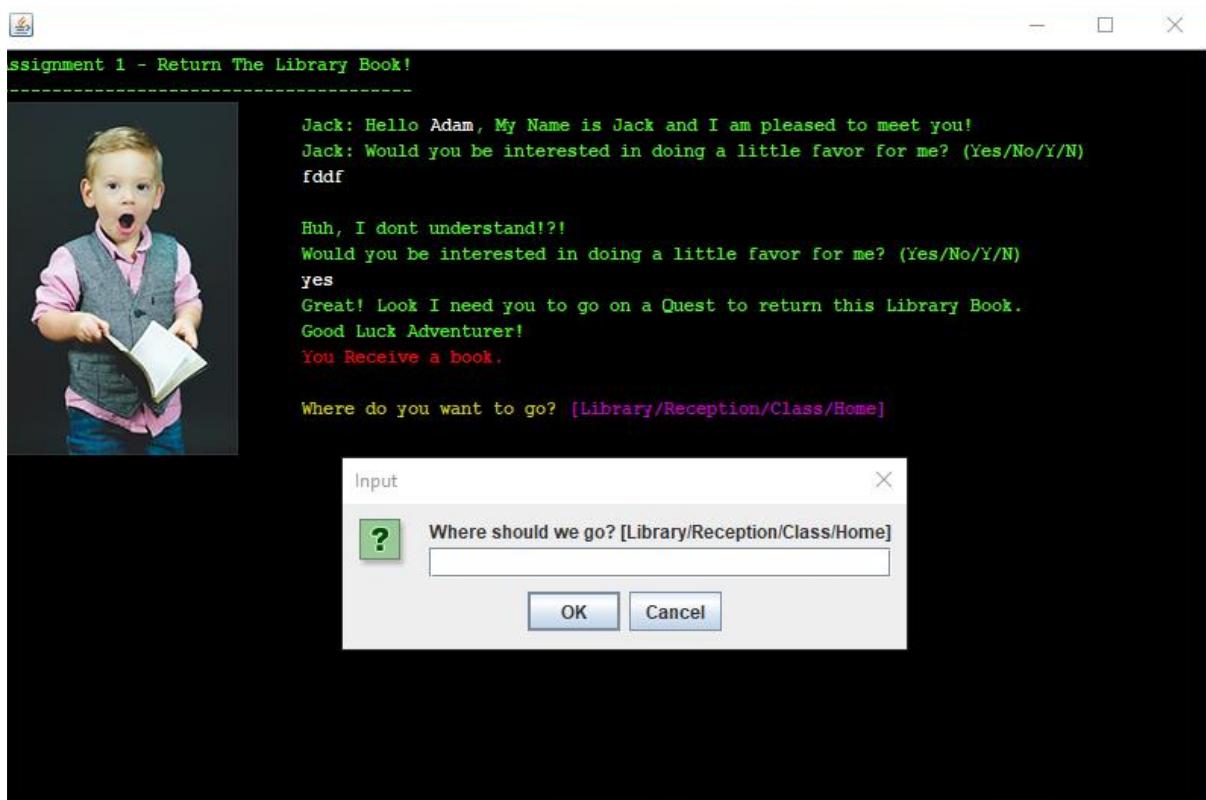

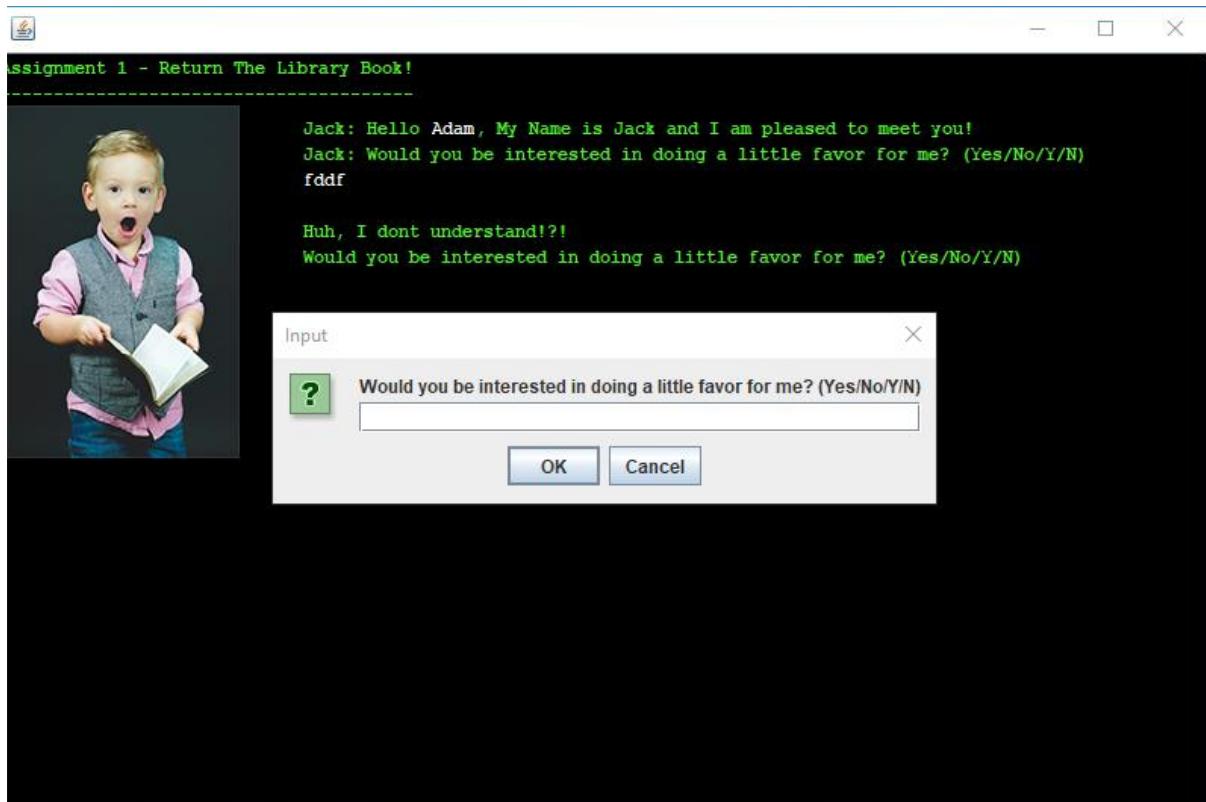

Upon opening the application, you will be prompted to enter your name:

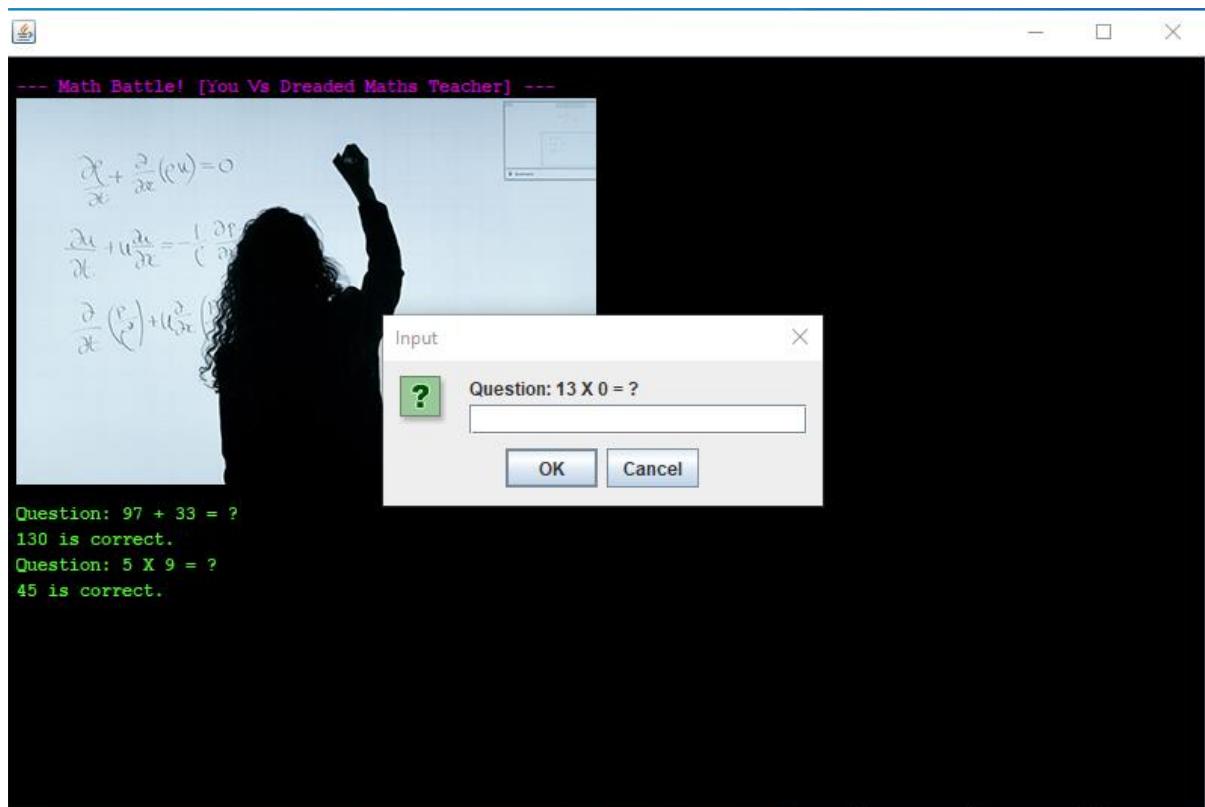

After entering your name, the application will continue to ask you various questions, but will also provide examples of input as shown below.

If an invalid or no input is entered the application will prompt again.

Throughout the application the user will continue to be prompted for user input

Until the selected storyline has come to a conclusion, at which time results will be shown:

